September 2019

From the Desk of the President

Scott Levy, D.D.S.

I hope this message finds everyone happy and healthy as the summer winds down. If you haven't sojourned to the beach or the mountains yet this summer; let this serve as a reminder to get out there, and breathe in some outside the operatory air.

As we all know, it is a true privilege to be part of a profession where we enjoy the respect and trust of our patients and peers and are given the opportunity to impact our patients' lives in a positive manner. I believe in order for us to be our best for our patients, families and friends we have to remember to take care of the person it is sometimes easiest to neglect—ourselves. I want to highlight and encourage the PDA-Sponsored Mini Wellness Retreat that is happening in our own backyard. On October 3, there will be a complimentary Yoga and Meditation evening event in Wayne, PA. Once all of our OHhhmms are hummed and we are feeling renewed it will be time to celebrate!

The 125th Anniversary Gala of our Society is happening on Saturday, October 19th at the Waynesborough Country Club. If you haven't been active for a while or are new to the area, this event is the perfect time to jump in and see how good it feels to party with us! I know it is going to be an amazing event and a fantastic time to reunite with old colleagues and make new friends.

Meet the New Board Members

Karin Brian is nearly a lifelong resident of Chester County. Her involvement with dentistry began during a career experience program at Downingtown Senior High School. This led to summer jobs working as a dental assistant while in college, then eventually onto the University of Maryland Dental School. She now is practicing part time at Rainbow Valley Dental in Sadsburyville after having worked nearly 27 years in Downingtown. You may recognize her most recently as a volunteer at the registration desk for the 2nd District Valley Forge Dental Conference. For most of her career she has been actively involved with organized dentistry at the local and state level, having either volunteered or been elected for numerous positions.

In the near future, she hopes to spend more time cooking and home winemaking utilizing produce harvested from her home garden. She also looks forward to more surf fishing in Hatteras, boating on the local waters, and traveling with her husband Tom.

Scott Levy completed his undergraduate degree at Indiana University. He returned to his hometown of Baltimore, to pursue his dental training at the University of Maryland. He then attended a one year general practice residency at New York Methodist Hospital in Brooklyn. After residency, Dr. Levy entered into private practice, where he developed a passion for Endodontics. He then completed a two year program at Albert Einstein in Philadelphia where he specialized in Endodontics. He also is a faculty attending at the I.B. Bender Division of Dental Medicine at the Albert Einstein Medical Center in Philadelphia. Dr. Levy enjoys a full time practice at Media Endodontics in Media, PA.

In his free time he enjoys hiking, cycling, and reading. He also likes exploring locally and internationally with his wonderful wife, Ellie.

Eric Navok is a UCONN Class of 2013 alum who currently works full-time treating veterans at the Coatesville VAMC. His attraction to dentistry came from his desire to impact others' lives more directly.

Marie Scott graduated from Temple University School of Dentistry (now Maurice H. Kornberg School of dentistry) in 1984. The next 34 years were spent practicing general family dentistry in Delaware County. From 1993 to 2018 she was co-owner of the Brandywine Smile Center in Glen Mills, PA..

Being involved with organized dentistry was very important to her, beginning with ASDA in dental school. As an active member in the Dental Society of Chester County and Delaware County she had the opportunity to hold various positions including: Bulletin Editor, Treasurer, President, and now will be the Recording Secretary for the 2019-2020 year. In addition to ADA, she is also a member of AGD, Pierre Fauchard Academy, and International College of Dentists - USA Section.

She is now enjoying retirement and especially enjoys traveling and has recently been to France, Denmark, Sweden, Estonia, and Russia. Her other hobbies include reading, knitting, and photography.

Jasmine Shafagh graduated from LECOM School of Dental Medicine in 2016 and has since been practicing in Havertown with her father who is a Prosthodontist. She recently got married and is moving to Orlando, Florida with her husband and mini golden-doodle puppy. She will soon be practicing in Florida.

She has been actively involved in organized dentistry since she was in dental school. She was president of the ASDA chapter at LECOM and Chair of the community service committee. Since graduating, Dr. Shafagh has been involved locally as the Bulletin Editor of the newsletter for the Dental Society of Chester County and Delaware County, was co-director of the DKU continuing education series, a member of the local New Dentist Committee, a moderator for GVFDC, and a GKAS volunteer. She maintains dual membership with the PDA and FDA. She will continue as your bulletin editor remotely from Florida in the upcoming year.

Miriam Ting graduated with a DMD (magna cum laude) from Temple University, Philadelphia, and a BDS from the Faculty of Dentistry, National University of Singapore. She completed a certificate in Advanced Periodontology and a MS in Craniofacial Biology at the University of Southern California. She is a Diplomate of the American Board of Periodontology and a Diplomate of the International Congress of Oral Implantologists.

Dr. Ting is the Founder and Director of the Think Dental Learning Institute; she has a private practice, Think Oral Implants and Periodontics, limited to Periodontology in Paoli, PA.

Dr. Ting has published numerous research and review papers, systematic reviews, and textbook chapters on periodontal microbiology and dental implant rehabilitation in peer-reviewed journals such as Periodontology 2000, Journal of Oral Implantology, Implant Dentistry, Compendium, Journal of Periodontal Research and European Journal of Oral Sciences. Dr. Ting's publications has over 800 citations in various peer-reviewed journals worldwide.

Orofacial Pain Disorders, Oral Mucosal Lesions: Diagnosis & Management –

AM: Appropriately diagnosing and managing oral mucosal diseases can be challenging, and patients often see several providers before obtaining a correct diagnosis. A sound understanding of oral mucosal diseases and following a systematic approach to diagnosis prevents unnecessary office visits, diagnostic tests, treatments, and a delayed diagnosis. Course Objectives: Form a differential diagnosis for various oral mucosal conditions; Define the most common oral mucosal diseases; and Manage common oral mucosal lesions.

PM: This course will introduce the attendant to all aspects of orofacial pain. It will review the temporomandibular joint disorders (TMDs): arthrogenous and myogenous disorders, internal derangements, and other uncommon joint conditions, as well as, neuropathic and neurovascular conditions. Will also review, non-odontogenic sources of toothache, headaches, and cervical pain. Dentists will learn to easily differentiate between these orofacial conditions and implement medical, dental, pharmacologic and behavioral treatments. Course Objectives: Recognize and diagnose patients with orofacial pain and dysfunction; Identify patients with TMDs and treat uncomplicated conditions; Manage TMDs through non-pharmacological methods, including splint therapy, interventional therapy, and physical medicine; and Select, administer and prescribe pharmacological agents. This course is supported by educational grants from Hayes and PNC.

Money Makes the World Go Round, But Drugs Can Make It Spin – Did you know that more than 20% of hospital admissions are due to adverse drug reactions? Just because dentists prescribe less than 10% of all available drugs, your patients may be taking others from the 90% with which you are not familiar. Polypharmacy is the norm, especially in the over 65 year old population, this course is considered essential to every practice setting today. This interactive program looks at some of the more common drugs and drug interactions and their management with a particular focus on the dental realm. The program will conclude with a discussion on what is in your emergency kit and why. After all, when an adverse drug reaction occurs due to a drug interaction, who is more at risk—you or your patient? Course Objectives: Describe the potential for drug-drug interactions and articulate strategies to avoid or manage them; Understand the principles of drug metabolism including liver enzyme induction and inhibition; Describe at least three disease states attributable for induced metabolism and three disease states attributable for inhibited metabolism. This course is supported by educational grants from Premier and Dentsply.

AM: Systems to Decrease Dentist & Team Stress • PM: The Circle of Dentisting Life: Associate-Buying-Expanding-Selling! –

AM: This program will help dentists and their team manage issues that are controllable and deal with issues that are out of their control in a productive way. Learn how to manage the financial expectations of small, medium and large cases, as well as, supply management skills for lowering every day spending. Tips to manage both the schedule and your practice reputation. Learn communication and leadership skills for reducing team challenges and maximizing patient relationships. Course Objectives: Learn instant 5-minute practice systems that eliminate confusion and enhance patient service; Gain strategies for dealing with a growing dental business and team; Explore how to implement larger treatment plans and prepare the dentist and team to present them

PM: Learn when to start planning to buy or sell a dental practice. Sellers will learn how to make their practices more attractive, and buyers will learn how to find the right practice for their needs, skills and location. We will examine the current state of the dental practice, transitions market, and buyers will learn how to approach a reputable bank for financing. Course Objectives: Keys to finding the right dental associates; Common pitfalls to avoid during transitions; Assembling the right team for buying and selling a practice. This course is supported by educational grants from Kettenbach and PNC.

Paul Goodman, DMD - Pennington, NJ

Friday, April 24, 2020

Interdisciplinary Approach for Treating the Esthetically Compromised Patient – Treatment planning of complex cases requires the highest level of knowledge and skill of the treating team. An envisionment of the final case before starting is required to know where the goal of treatment will be directed. Topics include controversial issues regarding immediate postextraction socket implant placement in relationship to survival and esthetic outcomes. Immediate provisional restoration of immediate implants placed into healed [delayed] or augmented sites. Current concepts will be presented on techniques, clinical research, histologic evidence, and innovations in immediate implant placement and provisional restoration treatment and how they can enhance outcomes for greater patient comfort, care, and satisfaction. The incidence and prevalence of inflammatory peri-implant disease is rapidly rising due to the increase in implants and their duration world-wide. Whether you are placing implants or restoring implants, it's imperative that you understand the factors involved in peri-implant disease, are able to diagnose the problem in its incipency and can take the proper steps to arrest its progression. Course Objectives: Should implants be placed immediately or in a delayed protocol? Should multiple implants be placed in the aesthetic zone? Should the case be splinted into separate bridges or individual teeth? Understand which instruments and chemotherapeutic agents are best suited to debride, detoxify and decontaminate an affected implant. Understand the indications for non-surgical and surgical therapy, and the specific implant surgical techniques utilized to optimize the results of peri-implantitis treatment. This course is supported by educational grants from Garfield, Hayes, Kettenbach, Salvin and PNC.

Dennis Tarnow, DDS - New York, NY

Emerging, Reemerging Diseases, Allergies & Vaccines in Dental Practices – Infectious diseases described over the past 4 decades include those caused by newly discovered microbial pathogens, re-emergent infections with drug-resistant strains, and infections which have become resistant to previously successful antimicrobials. Ongoing challenges, and occupational guidelines for blood-borne pathogens (hepatitis B & C viruses, HIV), respiratory infections (influenza viruses, tuberculosis), and waterborne infections will be discussed. Included is a discussion of persons with representative autoimmune disorders (i.e. systemic lupus, cirrhosis, diabetes, leukopenic challenges resulting from transplantation, multiple acquired immune deficiency syndromes). Medical and dental clinicians must develop stronger professional relationships. Rising allergy challenges to patients and providers from all materials and drugs used in the dental office will be examined. This seminar will consider vaccination as an effective public health infection control approach for protection of the general population and health care professionals. Objectives: Comprehend the occupational health care risks presented by these diseases; Understand that an increasing number of dental patients present with a defect in their host immune defenses; Understand that certain allergic reactions are observable in the oro-facial tissues; and Comprehend the impact vaccinations have had in protecting the population and the consequences of not getting them! This presentation is ideal for the entire dental team.
